SHE

January 2016

SHAHNAZ RAMZI

Shahnaz Ramzi is a woman of substance. If one is searching for powerful Pakistani professional women, Shahnaz Ramzi is one of the first who comes to mind. She has worked as a freelance journalist contributing to various magazine sections, has been nominated twice for the Gender in Journalism Award by UNESCO and has received the Best Journalist award by Mandooh. She worked as the General Manager Public Relations and Publications of Hum Television for 11 years, left that, took a leap of faith, believed in herself and her ability to deliver and started her own PR and Event Management Company by the name of Starlinks. She aspires to make her company the most sought after PR and event management company in Pakistan by the end of the year 2016! Considering her success throughout the years, it will hardly be a surprise to see how far she go succeed with Starlinks. Good Luck, Shahnaz!

BLUE CRIT

In Conversation with Shanaz Ramzi

After more than two decades of experience as a freelance journalist, over a decade as an editor, as well as the GM of public relations for the biggest entertainment network of the country, HUM, Shanaz Ramzi has become the CEO of STARLINKS, a PR and event management company with a strong CSR component. Here we speak to the powerhouse that has earned a reputation of being an industrious, scrupulous and responsible career woman.

How did you launch your career as a journalist?

Shanaz Ramzi: I started my career as a freelance journalist with Dawn group of newspapers way back in 1994. I had majored in journalism and had always been fond of writing but since I had got married while still at university, I had not been able to pursue journalism as a career till much later, when my kids were slightly older. At that time, while contemplating from my husband, and an article I had written Hamid Ali, who knew many magazine editors of Dawn and had been asked to introduce some freelance writers to them, I took a sample of my writing to them, and was immediately given assignments by all four sections – The Review, Sunday Magazine, Images and The Weekend. Since then I have never looked back, and have been a regular contributor not just to Dawn, but many other publications as well, both local and international. I have also edited a number of publications, including the monthlies GEAR and Mandoo TV Food Mag.

How did you make the transition from a journalist to a PR general manager?

SR: The transition to the field of public relations was relatively smooth one. I had interviewed Sultana Ajm for The Weekend in 2004 and when the interview was published
